

The Awe of Knowing God

The first step to experiencing God is to actually spend time with Him and actually get to know Him. So, take the time in your daily life to develop a relationship with God. This is the most important foundation. We must look to Him through Scripture and the leading of the Holy Spirit as we encounter His Word, so we can actually experience how fabulous He is! God is not an unknowable entity. He is not a God afar off.

Our relationship is our top priority. So every morning, before you dive into all of your to-do lists or responsibilities, dive into His presence. As you breathe your first breaths of the morning, stop and breathe in God's life. Focus on Jesus and connect yourself with His Word, His love and His peace. Knowing God, having an intimate relationship with Him, is the absolute most important key for us to live consistently in His presence. When we make knowing Him the beginning of our days and lives, everything else lines up accordingly.

Commune with God. Our future depends on saturating our heart, soul and body with the Spirit of the living God! The most important thing is to spend time in His presence! No matter what you may be facing or going through, dedicate time to spend in the presence of God, worshipping and glorifying Him. Let His presence envelop and elevate you into His reality. Declare the promises from the Word of God! Rather than dwelling on and magnifying the problems, dwell on and magnify His promises! Think and talk about His love, goodness, and limitless power to change your life. —Larry & Tiz Huch
